

Noteworthy

November 3, 2010

Rehearsal Schedule tonight!

- 6:30 pm Contemporary Choir Rehearsal
- 7:00 pm Christmas Music plus preparation for November 7 PM
- 8:00 pm Traditional Choir Rehearsal

Our next Bonus Rehearsal will be November 14 (this change was necessary due to the special service for our new Pastor on November 7). NOTE: If you need childcare for this rehearsal and have not signed up, contact Diann tomorrow.

- Thanks to all who auditioned for solo parts - they are listed on the reverse. Get prepared!
- Tickets are now available - take all you need, but bring back quickly what you don't use.
- Don't forget the extra rehearsal on the 14th - esta muy importante.
- Please be working on your music on your own.

We will be singing and playing for Sunday night's special service. Rehearsal begins at 4:45 p.m. We'll wear black pants/skirts and jewel tone shirts/blouses (the colors of jewels: emerald green, amethyst purple, ruby red, sapphire blue, tourmaline green, and turquoise blue.)

Excitement is in the air! We have prayed for the Pastor Search Committee to be led to God's choice for our next Pastor - I believe He has been faithful to answer those prayers, and Sunday night will be a celebration of that! Keep praying, and let's get excited about how God is going to lead us into HIS future for our church!

Remember to set your clocks back one hour before going to bed this Saturday, November 6. (You would really be bummed out if you got here and hour early!)

THE GIFT OF CHRISTMAS

A huge THANKS to everyone who auditioned - we had almost 30 folks who did a great job. With all the talent we have at Taylors it's hard to choose. There are many things I dislike about the audition process, but I always find some great new singers I didn't know about, too. If you have questions about your assignment please come and talk with me. Know that I appreciate your willingness to prepare and put yourself out there! KB
